

Westport Author, Catherine Onyemelukwe, will speak about Nigeria at the Weston Public Library's November 19 Lunch and Learn at 12:00 noon.

Nigeria Lecture at Weston Library November 19

October 16, 2014 (WESTON, Conn.) -- The Friends of the Weston Public Library are pleased to welcome Westport author, Catherine Onyemelukwe, to the library on Wednesday, November 19 for a Lunch and Learn program from 12:00 noon - 1:30 pm. Ms. Onyemelukwe will address the current political situation in Nigeria as well as its history, legacy of colonialism and culture. Additionally, Ms. Onyemelukwe will provide perspective on the tragic kidnapping of the Chibok school girls and their captors, the Boko Haram.

Ms. Onyemelukwe entered Nigeria as a Peace Corps volunteer in 1962 and stayed for 24 years. She married a Nigerian and went on to raise a family, teach, launch a business and ultimately, adopt the country as her own. Ms. Onyemelukwe has captured her experiences in her recent memoir, Nigeria Revisited: My Life and Loves Abroad (Peace Corps Writers/Create Space, October, 2014).

The Lunch and Learn is open to the community and admission is free. Attendees can bring their own lunch; registration is not necessary. For additional information, e-mail friendsofthewestonlibrary@gmail.com or call the Weston Library at (203) 222-2665.

###

For details, visit www.friendsofthewestonlibrary.wordpress.com.