

"Play With Your Food" Summer Performance
Tuesday, July 12 at Noon

The Friends of the Weston Public Library is once again underwriting a summer performance of Play With Your Food. This popular event showcases local area actors performing three one-act plays, plus lunch and a post-performance discussion. The plays include:

Civilization by Gary Dontzig...exploring the quirky side of human relationships and what you might find when you find yourself in the middle of nowhere

A Betrothal by Lanford Wilson... looking at what it takes for two people to make a connection

Pillow by Fredrick Stoppel... a raunchy and irreverent comedy with beloved Weston actress Barbara Rhoades teaming up with Broadway veteran

Mia Dillon

Reservations are required and are being accepted until July 8. The cost of $25 per person includes a boxed lunch, catered by Peter's Weston Market. Weather permitting, lunch will be outside, so bring a blanket or chair. To register, checks made out to "Friends of the Weston Public Library" can be dropped at the library - include your e-mail address, number in your party, and lunch selection (chicken salad, ham and cheese, or veggie)
